Drake Memorial Library

2013 Annual Report

July 2, 2013

Compiled by M. J. Orzech in collaboration with R. Cushman, P. O'Sullivan, J. Smathers and Drake librarians/staff

2013 Departmental/School/Unit Annual Report Format

A. Please provide a brief ‘state of the union’ for your unit relative to your mission and current context/situation. Also list your unit’s goals for the near future. Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, Threats.

Drake Memorial Library was busy and productive on several fronts. Recognition was received for several projects and initiatives begun in previous years. Library faculty and staff received several grants/awards from regional (RRLC), state (IITG, SUNYLA, NYSSLA and UUP) as well national sources (NEH, ALA/ACRL, Ellucian, CCC).

Strengths:

1. Librarians and staff are energized and productive.
2. Library Advisory Council and Library Design Team have been helpful in improving communication with faculty and planning for renovation and collection evaluation projects.
3. Library initiatives are becoming better aligned with LITS, campus and SUNY strategic plans.

Weaknesses:

1. Retirements will create short staffing until positions are filled.
2. Student training was strengthened with year, but much more remains to be done.
3. Library and staff training in use of technology, especially cloud and mobile, is beginning but should be increased. Librarians had the opportunity to move to MS Office 2010, but not all have requested upgrading to date.

Opportunities:

1. Planning for a new reference/instruction librarian position to be hired for fall, who along with others, will be expected to boost library support for online learning/SLN/open initiatives.
2. Staff turnover in the Circulation area will create opportunity to review workflows and make changes if needed.
3. Library conducted successful pilot project for VHS collection evaluation. This effort has provided opportunity to acquaint faculty with the project and make suggestion for 2013-14 book evaluation effort.
4. The re-location of ETC and the collaboratory/MediaScape to main floor this fall will help with visibility and re-fresh the Learning Commons area. The recent LITS acquisition of a Makerbot 3D printer is expected to highlight Drake’s potential as a makerspace for students, faculty and staff.

Threats/Challenges:

1. Library needs to continue working on improving communication to both internal and external stakeholders.
2. Need to ensure the many library projects are not responsibility of only one person. Additional cross-functional training is needed for back-up.
3. There is potential for burn-out for high-performing librarians and staff. Sharing project responsibility and stronger team efforts throughout the library will be helpful. Time to re-charge, prioritize, delegate is also important for all.

Goals:

1. Build on first year's work with the Library Advisory Committee; complete the collection development policy and collection evaluation project. Plan campuswide panel discussion and other events related to the academic library of 2025.
2. Continue to enhance Digital Commons efforts particularly for graduate theses and faculty scholarship;
3. Continue patron-driven acquisition pilot efforts with WNYLRC, SUNY and others.
4. Support library outreach efforts including programming for the Muslim Journeys grant;
5. Plan for UUP COCID conference spring 2014 regarding open journals;
6. Develop 3-D printing opportunities for curricular and co-curricular scholarship;
7. Continue next round of e-textbook grants and other open access initiatives with UB, Delhi, Geneseo and others;
8. Conduct campuswide MISO LITS survey. Use results to advance LITS strategic plan goals.
9. Complete a library instruction assessment project that includes use of TK20 as part of the ACRL 'Assessment in Action' program.

B. Please report your unit's support for and/or contributions to the strategic priorities listed below. Where applicable, please explicitly note where actions/activities/decisions were in pursuit of your goals noted in last year's report.

High quality, rigorous undergraduate and/or graduate academic programs.

1. Digital Commons is currently working with eight departments to put graduate theses online as part of LITS goal to support graduate education. We continue to encourage submissions from other departments as well as faculty/staff publications.
2. Innovations in technology include several Faculty/Staff technology grants including:
 Addition of tablets, e-readers and mobile devices to Drake

Scanner to work with the 3D printer
 Public color scanner
 Technology enhancements to Learning Commons area

Other technology enhancements being acquired for 2013 include a new scanner/copier for ILL, new self-checkout unit. A SmartBoard was installed for student teachers and others to be able to practice presentations near the Juvenile collection; co-funded with Education. Several staff received and are making good use of iPads in support of LITS goals to support technological innovation.

- Active faculty/staff-student engagement in student learning/student development

[Students' engagement in high impact experiences, either in or out of the classroom (e.g., study abroad/student exchange, capstone, research w/faculty, internships, service learning); Scholar's Day/Graduate/NCUR or other conference presentations; changes in advisement of students/increased mentoring; efforts to assess advising in your unit; other faculty/staff-student involvement (e.g., Living Learning Communities, presentations in residence halls, advisor to student groups, etc.)]

1. Librarians taught a total of 236 instruction sessions to a total of 4493 students. The Library instruction program continues to receive high marks: According to most recent MISO survey:
 - Brockport faculty used library research instruction at a higher rate than the cohort schools (statistically significant).
 - Brockport faculty rated it as higher in importance than the cohort data (statistically significant).
 - There was no difference for satisfaction rates between Brockport and the cohort schools.
 - Brockport's satisfaction rate remained stable, with the highest score in 2012 at 3.72.
2. Library and student staff made presentations at Scholars Day, Graduate Student conference, diversity conference, etc.
3. Library held two International student coffee hours during fall 2013.
4. Librarians and staff attended/served/presented at numerous student related committees and/or events, e.g., Welcome Week, international student orientation, diversity committee and others.
5. Library provided internship for graduate library student.
