ARTICLE VI. Expectations for Academic Librarians’ Ranks

VI A. Librarianship: Librarianship is the most important aspect of our discipline. Librarians organize and provide access to information sources which meet the curricular and research needs of those within the academic community. Activities vary widely based on department and role.

1. Common expectations: We expect successful performance of assigned duties, as established in the Annual Report and approved by the direct supervisor, which should include contributions to collection building, creativity, problem solving, and professional growth as defined in section IV.D.1. Librarianship.
 - a. Appointment as Assistant Librarian: This entry-level rank requires an ALA-accredited master’s degree.
 - b. Appointment as Senior Assistant Librarian: Satisfactory performance of expectations.
 - c. Appointment as Associate Librarian: Successful performance of expectations.
 - d. Appointment as Librarian: Exceptional performance of expectations, particularly with leadership in projects, services, and management dimensions of the library.
2. Variable expectations: We expect to see clear and demonstrated growth of effectiveness in librarianship as individual Librarians are evaluated for reappointment, tenure, and promotion. Indications of such growth may include, but are not limited to, the following:
 - a. A deepening mastery of subject matter. We expect that over time a librarian will improve their familiarity with the scholarly literature relevant to their specialty and be able to integrate that material into their work.
 - b. A broadening of the range of activities performed. Within the limits of their position’s needs, we expect that Librarians demonstrate increased independence and leadership skills as they progress in rank.

- i. Public Services Librarians focus primarily on the information and instructional needs of faculty, staff, and students.
- ii. Technical Services Librarians focus primarily on functions to acquire, assist discovery, share, and maintain all of the library's collections. These responsibilities do not coincide with the academic calendar.
- iii. Librarians with managerial oversight function primarily in those roles throughout the year. These responsibilities do not coincide with the academic calendar.

VI B. Scholarship: Sustained scholarship is vital to effective librarianship.

1. Evaluation Criteria:
 - a. adequacy of preparation
 - b. appropriateness of methods
 - c. significance of results
 - d. effectiveness of presentation
 - e. reflective critique where appropriate
2. Common Expectations for Scholarship at all Ranks: The College at Brockport defines scholarship using Ernest Boyer's model. This model contains four categories of scholarship: discovery; application; integration; teaching and learning. Librarians often focus on the scholarship of application and integration. The primary measure for scholarship, regardless of type, shall be the significance of its results. This includes impact on the profession and one's own effectiveness in librarianship. We encourage dissemination of scholarship through open access publications. Prior scholarship will be given consideration if there is evidence of sustained productivity in scholarship while at Brockport. Plans for an active program of scholarship are recorded in the personal Annual Report form.
3. Variable Expectations: Scholarship is weighted appropriately given librarianship workload and service commitments. We expect the following when applying for a promotion:
 - a. Assistant Librarian: This entry-level rank shall not require any formal evidence of scholarship.
 - b. Senior Assistant Librarian: Scholarship shall be basic in preparation and execution. At a minimum, results should impact the library.
 - c. Associate Librarian: Scholarship shall take thorough preparation and execution. Results should be reported beyond the campus and significantly impact the library.
 - d. Librarian: Scholarship should be intensive in nature. Results should be peer-reviewed, reported widely, or significantly impact librarianship.
4. Active Program of Scholarship: Evidence can include but is not limited to:
 - a. Book reviews
 - b. Contributions to the institutional repository
 - c. Coursework toward an additional, relevant degree
 - d. Internal study of a library program or issue
 - e. Journal articles
 - f. Library guides
 - g. Presentations or facilitating workshops
 - h. Successful grant applications
 - i. Other (Applicant must demonstrate relevance)

- VI C. Service: Service to the department, College, SUNY, and the community are important responsibilities of Librarians.
1. Common Expectations for Service at all Ranks: Ongoing participation in decision-making in the department and the College, as well as attendance at department and college-wide functions (Academic Convocation, Honors and Awards Ceremony, and Commencement) is expected. Librarians are encouraged to participate in activities beyond the campus, especially with relevant professional organizations. Such networking will advance individual careers and promote the national visibility of the College. Community service related to the candidate's disciplinary expertise and to the mission of the College shall be considered.
 2. Variable Expectations:
 - a. Pre-tenured Librarians should focus their service efforts at the departmental level and with professional organizations.
 - b. Librarians approaching continuing appointment should demonstrate leadership skills in their service efforts.
 - c. Tenured Librarians have a greater commitment to service at the College-wide level and should protect the time of untenured Librarians in their service efforts.

ARTICLE VII. Review and Modification of the Bylaws

- VII A. This document will be reviewed and reaffirmed every fifth year.
- VII B. The ad hoc review committee will consist of at least one member of the current APT Committee and other interested Librarians.
- VII C. Librarians may bring proposals for revisions to these Bylaws to the Committee at any time.
- VII D. Proposed revisions will be brought to the Librarians for ratification.

Appendix I: Member Selection Procedures

- A. Prior to the start of a new Committee’s term, its composition shall be determined as follows:
1. For the sake of continuity, the outgoing Committee will select one of its members to serve on the new Committee as Chair.
 2. The outgoing Committee shall also conduct a random drawing from the eligible Librarians not currently serving to fill the two remaining seats on the incoming Committee. This drawing will include current APT members when there are not enough eligible Librarians outside the committee.
 3. Sections 1 and 2 notwithstanding, no Librarian will be required to serve more than 2 consecutive terms, unless there are not sufficient numbers of eligible Librarians available.
 4. If for any reason a member is unable to serve for the full one-year term, the Committee will conduct a random drawing from the eligible Librarians not currently serving to select a substitute member who will serve for the remainder of the term. Librarians whose substitute term of service is longer than 6 months will be considered to have served the full year.
