A NOTE ON ONOMASTICS
IN POPULAR CULTURE, III

Another section of interest to onomasticians was presented at the eleventh annual convention of the Popular Culture Association.

"What's in a Word? The Culture of Language," chaired by Charles R. Whaley, Human Development and Learning, University of North Carolina at Charlotte. Professor Whaley gave a paper on "The Birds and the Beasts: Woman as Animal." The two other papers in the section were "Names and Things," by David A. Miller, Philosophy, Clark University, and "The Pessimism of Prison Life: By the Slang, Ye Shall Know It," by Hugh Morgan, English, Miami University.

Although not strictly literary onomastics, one is happy to find kindred minds where one can.
