Congratulations to this year’s Student Organization Award Recipients!

On Sunday, April 29, 2018, Student Union and Activities, Brockport Student Government, and Campus Recreation hosted the Student Organization Appreciation Banquet to celebrate our 131 student organizations.

2018 Student Organization Banquet Flyer

These student organizations are led by more than 426 students who hold student organization officer positions (presidents, vice presidents, secretaries, and treasurers). These organizations are supported by 80 dedicated faculty and staff members who serve as advisors. The following awards were announced and celebrated at our banquet.

Student Organization of the Year Award: This award is open to any registered student organization at The College at Brockport. Its purpose is to recognize a student organization that has embodied their mission and that of the College throughout the organization work during the current academic years. It honors one recognized student organization that has enhance the College, student community, the development of their organization members, and has continued to be reputable and have a strong presence on The College at Brockport’s campus and in the surrounding community.

2018 Recipient: Association of Latinx American Students (ALAS)

2018 Finalists: Phi Sigma Sigma - Delta Sigma Chapter, Club Gymnastics, Student Social Work Organization, Habitat for Humanity, Student Dance Organization

Student Organization Officer of the Year: This award is open to a student organization officer. This award recognizes an individual who publicly advanced the mission of their organization while challenging and encouraging the membership to advance new initiatives, acquire new skills, and prepare the organization for leadership transition and ongoing success. This award is bestowed upon the individual who has illustrated the commitment and leadership that they have offered their organization/group, and most especially the community of — and/or surrounding — The College at Brockport as a whole.

2018 Recipient: Bailey Morse, Gender Equity Movement

2018 Finalists: Melanie Bernocco (Women's Club Gymnastics), Carissa Bishop and Megan Mariotti (Brockport Dance Team), Jordan Soldaczewski (Talon Television), Savannah Valentin (Association of Latinx American Students)

Student Organization Event of the Year Award: This award is given out by Student Union and Activities to a registered student organization that hosted an on campus event during the previous school year. The award specifically recognizes events or programs that are collaborative, innovative, and unique, reach a wide audience on campus, and have clearly stated outcomes.

2018 Recipient: "Brockport Beats Brain Tumors" Men's Club Ice Hockey

Student Organization Equity, Diversity and Inclusion Initiative Award: This award is presented to a registered student organization that has demonstrated sustained initiatives to promote diversity, build community, raise awareness, and create a more inclusive and equitable atmosphere at The College at Brockport.

Men of Color

Student Organization “Unsung Hero” Award: This award recognizes a registered student organization member who has established themselves as a rising leader and made significant contributions to his or her organization but is not within an officially recognized leadership capacity for that student organization. This student gives their all to the organization, demonstrating true commitment and devotion to the organization’s causes both on campus and in the community.

2018 Recipient: Mark Washington, Brockport Men's Rugby Football Club

Student Organization Advisor of the Year: This award will be presented to the student organization advisor that showed outstanding leadership and advisement in supporting the efforts of the student organization. The individual receiving this award will be judged on their advisory and support skills for the student organization.

2018 Recipient: Warren Kozireski, 89.1 The Point

Eagle Service Group Honor Roll: The Eagle Service Group Honor Roll gives groups on campus college-wide recognition for dedication and commitment to serving those in their community.

Congratulations to Faculty in the Department of Social Work

The Department of Social Work would like to recognize and congratulate Dr. Nicole Cesnales and Dr. Jason Dauenhauer on their upcoming promotions to associate professor and full professor, respectively.

Dr. Cesnales has been with the College since 2014. She worked as a medical social worker at the HIV/AIDS program at University of Pittsburgh Medical Center prior to coming to Brockport. Her practice and research interests overlap as demonstrated by her past and most recent publications. Recent co-authored publications include: “Differences in health-related quality of life among people living with HIV/AIDS”; “HIV case managers’ attitudes toward empirically supported interventions”; and “Health-related quality of life among people living with HIV/AIDS receiving case management”. Other notable works include Health-related quality of life measures, published in 2014 in the Encyclopedia of Quality of Life and Well-Being Research. In addition to her scholarly work, Dr. Cesnales has demonstrated leadership within the Department, College and community via her service as the social work department’s academic advisement coordinator, co-chair of admissions for the department, and as senator in the College Senate. Dr. Cesnales also serves on the Board of Directors of the Brockport Child Development Center.

Dr. Dauenhauer joined the College in 2004 after earning his doctoral degree in human development from the University of Rochester. While Dr. Dauenhauer has demonstrated his dedication and excellence in teaching, scholarship, and service in many ways, nowhere is this more noteworthy than in his dedication to working with older adults. This career path began early in Dr. Dauenhauer’s career as he earned his MSW with a Specialist in Aging certificate from the University of Michigan before going on to complete his doctorate. Since then he has been instrumental in coordinating the aging studies minor here at Brockport, and more recently became director of Multigenerational Engagement at the College. In this role, Dr. Dauenhauer has played a key role in fostering intergenerational learning experiences between older adults and Brockport College students. Not surprising, he also teaches for the aging studies minor and has continued to conduct research on older adults and elder abuse. Recent published works include: Preliminary outcomes from a community-based elder abuse risk and evaluation tool, published in 2017 in the Journal of Applied Gerontology and Fostering a new model of multigenerational learning: Older adult perspectives, community partners, and higher education, published in 2016 in the Journal of Educational Gerontology. These are just a couple of the achievements that have helped to earn Dr. Dauenhauer full professorship, as it is not permissible within this acknowledgement to list the many accomplishments that have helped him obtain this promotion. It is important however to note that his work has led to the acknowledgement of his expertise in his field at both the national and international level and he continues to produce research at a rate and of a quality commensurate with leaders in the field.

Memoir of 1944

The scrapbook discussed here is both a memoir of the Class of 1944 and a tribute to then President Ernest Hartwell, who was retiring that year. Colleges across the country were, like Brockport, riding out the tumult of WWII on the home front as best they could. Even with many students leaving for military service, they carried on with course work and the social activities of that time, and this scrapbook with its many photographs and comments captures that era vividly. Since the text is predominantly handwritten, you may choose to view it as a test of your ability to still read cursive handwriting. ;-)

There are some notable alumni in the book, for example Peg Hare Browne, who later taught in the old campus school and then our education department. After retirement, she was a champion booster of the college as both an emeriti and an alumna. She had become personal friends with Dr. Hartwell and his wife, and after his death, Mrs. Hartwell gave the scrapbook to Peg, who in turn gave it to the archives many years later.

Nellie Gansworth was in this class, too. She was a Tuscarora from the Lewiston reservation and, in addition to a career as a school teacher, she and her husband were active informants for a dictionary of the Tuscarora language.

Enjoy your visit to 1944!

MetroCenter Library wins 2nd place in Academic Library of the Year Award

A terrific way to end the run of the MetroCenter as it makes its final bows!

The MetroCenter Library won 2nd place in the Rochester Regional Library Council's Academic Library of the Year Contest for 2018 - beaten out only by RIT. To give you perspective, RIT has 18K students/45 library employees and the MetroCenter has 500 students/one library staff member (Librarian Linda Hacker). Sixteen colleges/universities are eligible to participate. The MetroCenter Library also won the contest in 2013.
2017-2018 Fraternity & Sorority Life Highlights

On Wednesday, May 2nd in McCue Auditorium, Liberal Arts Building, the Fraternity & Sorority Life highlighted all the work that our seven recognized organizations have done during the 2017-2018 academic year.

The College at Brockport Fraternity and Sorority Life upholds its members to the gold standard set forth by the college, the Inter-Greek Council, and by the respective national Greek organizations.

Specifically, to:

· Promote academic success at the highest levels of scholarship.
· Encourage its members to be engaged in their community through service and philanthropy.
· Foster the growth of leadership, responsibility, and moral character through a superior sense of ethics, respect, and inclusion.
· Establish a diverse environment that promotes lifelong friendships built on unity, pride, and support.
· Develop a foundation that creates a lifetime of ideals and values that prepares leaders for a global society.

Our highlights this year included:

1) Inaugural “Meet the GrΣΣks” Event held in September
2) Successfully created IGC colonization steps for Lambda Sigma Upsilon and future colonies at The College at Brockport to follow prior to chartering
3) 101 members completed the Green Dot training through Prevention & Outreach Services
4) Participated in Walk a Mile in Their Shoes (Prevention & Outreach Services)
5) “The Little Library” (co-sponsorship with Friends of Drake Library)
6) Raised $281.77 for March of Dimes with the Blue Jeans for Babies campaign (third year in a row)
7) Date Auction raised $855 for three philanthropies (Delta Phi Epsilon, Phi Sigma Sigma, and Pi Kappa Phi)
8) Participated in Tunnel of Oppression
9) Rewrote the IGC Constitution

The English Club publishes the 69th Annual Edition of Jigsaw

Jigsaw, the English Department’s student literary magazine, was released this week.
Thirty-seven Brockport students have contributed poetry, short stories, and visual art to the edition. This year, Jennifer Deegan served as student president of the English Club, Charlotte Luft served as Editor-in-Chief of Jigsaw, and a team of students worked collaboratively to edit the volume. The publication was funded by the Brockport Student Government. Copies of this year's edition, as well as the 2017 edition, are available in the Department of English.

BIODANCE: 12th Anniversary Concert

Celebrate BIODANCE’s 12th Anniversary at Geva Theatre Center’s Fielding Stage on May 17-19. BIODANCE is a Rochester-based dance company comprised largely of graduates from the Department of Dance.

BIODANCE celebrates its 12th anniversary in four concerts at Geva Theatre Center’s Fielding Stage on May 17-19, featuring a world premiere, two Rochester premieres, and selected repertory from the company’s dozen years of work, including the revival of Heidi Latsky’s Solo Countersolo. Former BIODANCE member Courtney World will return to her hometown of Rochester to perform for this anniversary celebration. BIODANCE is excited to revive Solo Countersolo, a masterwork created by internationally renowned artist Heidi Latsky in 2013 for her NYC-based company. Solo Countersolo focuses on a soloist (Missy Pfohl Smith) as the counterpoint to the ensemble, weaving through a landscape of vigorously moving bodies to British composer Chris Brierley’s passionate score. BIODANCE will premiere Loom, a collaboration between choreographer Missy Pfohl Smith (Artistic Director, BIODANCE, and Director, Program of Dance and Movement, University of Rochester), digital media artist W. Michelle Harris (Associate Professor, RIT), and longtime BIODANCE collaborator and composer Garret Reynolds (MM, Eastman). This visually striking work utilizes motion capture technology and features new live music. The program will also include works from its repertoire including I.T. (2009), with live and original music by composer Mark Oliveri, and No Dancing Allowed (2011), both choreographed by Smith; and Possible Side Effects (2016), choreographed by Jeanne Schickler Compisi. For this special occasion, BIODANCE also commissioned That’s all, folks, a moving work by emerging Maine-based choreographers Flannery Black-Ingersoll and Johanna Hayes that will celebrate its Rochester premiere.

Performers include Jeanne Schickler Compisi, Sarah Dearstyne, Maureen Gorman (current MFA student, Dance), Sarah Johnson (BA & MA, Dance), Natalia Lisina, Nanako Horikawa Mandrino (BFA, Dance), Alaina Olivieri (BA, Dance), Laura M. Regna (BFA & MFA, Dance), Julie Schlafer Rossette (BFA Dance), Jean Michael Rubingu, Missy Pfohl Smith (BFA, Dance), Stuart Tsubota (Biology), and Courtney World (MFA, Dance).

The evening performances on May 17-19 will start at 7 pm. The matinee on May 19 will start at 2 pm. Tickets are available at the link below or at the Geva box office.

LIBRARY, INFORMATION & TECHNOLOGY SERVICES
Library Reorganization and Realignment of Library Services

Drake Library engaged in a collaborative reimagining of our department. Our four newly formed teams are: Fulfillment, Assessment, Systems, & Technology; Information Literacy; Collections & Discovery; and Scholarly Communications & Special Collections.

Drake Library is preparing for a migration to a completely new Library Services Platform, Alma, as part of a SUNY-wide implementation to go live in July 2019. This new LSP will bring a myriad of changes behind the scenes as well as changing responsibilities for library staff.

This spring, Jennifer Smathers, interim library director, led the library through a collaborative reimagining of our organizational chart. We will be solidifying the mission and goals of the new teams before fall. Our four newly formed teams are:

Fulfillment, Assessment, Systems, & Technology

Information Literacy

Collections & Discovery

Scholarly Communications & Special Collections

Recent Scholarly Activity by the School of Business and Management Faculty

Scholarly works by Dr. Barry Hettler, Dr. Baban Hasnat, and Dr. Lerong He have recently been published.

Dr. Baban Hasnat’s paper, "Big Data: An Institutional Perspective on Opportunities and Challenges " has been accepted for publication in the Journal of Economic Issues.

Dr. Lerong He’s paper coauthored with Drs. Fang and Conyon entitled “The Effect of External Auditors on Managerial Slack” has been accepted for publication on Accounting Horizons. This journal is rated "A" in the ABDC (Australian Business Deans Council) journal list.

Dr. Lerong He has been awarded the AY2018-2019 SUNY Conversations in the Disciplines (CID) grant to host a workshop on Brockport on “University Technology Transfer and Commercialization: Incentive, Infrastructure, and Impact”. The workshop is planned on 11/18/18 during the global entrepreneurship week.
These new teams are recreating our library services from the ground up, employing Drake Library’s values of Purposeful Innovation, Empathy, Inclusivity, Intellectual Freedom, Leadership, and Respect.

While anticipating changes brought by the new Library Services Platform, the overall goal of the reorganization is for Drake Library to offer sustainable services while being a better place to both learn and work.

Our services may look different in the fall and you may work with a new librarian. We know that change can be hard; however, these efforts will help us realize our mission to “Empower our intellectual community to excel in the discovery and creation of knowledge, art, and scholarship.”

We will continue to communicate to keep you updated on new library services and workflows. Please direct any questions to Jennifer Smathers, jsmather@brockport.edu.
