Table of Contents (Volume XV)
Table of Contents

Names, Naming, and Nature in The Tale of Genji
by Elissa Kido ................................... 1

Women's Names in the English Renaissance Elegy
by Dorothy E. Litt ............................... 7

"It's All in the Name": Amorous Vision and Poetic Creativity in Ronsard's Sonets pour Helene
by Donald Gilman .................................. 15

The Seven Wonders and the Seven Hills in Du Bellay's Les Antiquitez de Rome
by Betty J. Davis .................................. 23

Ambiguity and Destruction Through the Naming Process in Reivindicación del Conde don Julián and Recuento
by Antonio Sobejano-Morán ........................ 31

"Espíritu Sin Nombre": Names in Bécquer
by Susan Lynch and Alfred Rodriguez ........................ 39

Joyce Cary's Onomastic "Orchestration": Name, Symbol, and Theme in The Horse's Mouth
by Ramona Kelley Stamm ........................... 43

Jacob and Joseph as Character Names in Modern Literature
by Russell E. Brown ................................ 51

Naming in Philip Roth's Goodbye, Columbus
by William A. Francis ................................. 59

Disappearing Letters and Breaking Rules: John Irving as Namer
by Jack D. Wages ................................... 63

Patrick Modiano's La Place de l'Etoile: Why Name a Narrator "Raphaël Schlemilovitch"?
by Charles O'Keefe .................................. 67

"Up to a Point": Onomastic Devices and Satire in Evelyn Waugh's Scoop
by Leonard R.N. Ashley ................................. 75