Honoring Frank Sacheli ’45 in a Tree Dedication Ceremony on Tuesday, Oct. 11
We invite you to join the College community in honoring Frank Sacheli ’45, former Village of Brockport mayor, in a tree dedication ceremony on Tuesday at 3 pm on the front lawn of Hartwell Hall. A reception at Alumni House will follow the ceremony.

A native of Rochester, NY, Frank Sacheli ’45 has lived in the Village of Brockport and Town of Sweden for 73 years. He is well known for owning the Landmark Hotel in the late 1940’s, and for his family onion farm in Orleans County. After serving in World War II for two years, Frank graduated from The College at Brockport in 1945. Twenty years later, he was elected Mayor of the Village of Brockport, a role he would fill for four years. Frank was inducted into the Brockport Alumni Association Hall of Heritage in 1990, 14 years after ending his 2-year tenure as President of the Brockport Alumni Association.

Frank married Patricia Curtin in 1946, and as a widower became a faithful friend of Antoinette Ercolano. He is the father of Kathleen, John, Anne and Elizabeth. He freely shares his expertise in euchre and gin, continues to enjoy golf and his garlic/vegetable garden, and remains an avid supporter of his community and church.

On behalf of the Village Board, Mayor Margaret B. Blackman has proclaimed October 11, 2016 as Frank Sacheli Day in the Village of Brockport. We invite you to join The College at Brockport community in celebrating this momentous day at Tuesday’s tree dedication ceremony. A reception at Alumni House will follow the ceremony.

Village of Brockport receives 17th CLG Grant

The grant will enable the village to hire a consultant to make an historic resources survey of village streets with a view to identifying one or more historic districts that may be eligible for listing on the State & National Registers of Historic Places.

The Village of Brockport has been awarded its 17th Certified Local Government (CLG) grant. The grant’s purpose is to enable the village to hire a consultant to make an historic resources survey of College, King, and Clinton Streets with a view to identifying one or more historic districts that may be eligible for listing on the State and National Registers of Historic Places.

A similar study identified an historic residential district comprising 72 homes on State and South Streets and Park Avenue on the village’s east side that has been listed on the Registers. A total of 130 structures in the village (plus the High Street cemetery) have been so-listed. Also, a program of the Village’s Historic Preservation Board has designated 110 structures as historic landmarks. The owners of structures listed on the Registers are eligible for state and federal tax credits for work on their buildings that conforms to Department of Interior standards.
"We are very grateful for the wonderful support our historic preservation program has received from the State Historic Preservation Office," Trustee Bill Andrews said. "Without their help we could not have accomplished nearly as much."

Dr. Douglas Wilcox, Empire Innovation Professor of Wetland Science, Department of Environmental Science & Biology, received $29,930 from the US Geological Survey to conduct a functional assessment of restored coastal wetlands. Dr. Wilcox and his team will use the grant funds received from USGS to sample restored wetlands at Long Pond, Buck Pond, Buttonwood Creek, and Braddock Bay, to assess how well the restorations have affected wetland functioning. Sampling will include fish communities, macroinvertebrate communities, and water quality, at the wetland sites. The team will use East Bay, an unrestored wetland, as a control site for the assessments. The award will be administered by The Research Foundation for SUNY.

Lyndsey Richards '18 with Betty Evershed '46s scrapbook.

This fall Betty Evershed '46 and Lyndsey Richards '18 are getting to be close friends. Lyndsey, a history major, is doing an internship in the archives researching the life of students at the College in WWII, the foundation of which study is Betty Evershed's scrapbook.
The scrapbook is a wonderful capture of life here in that era. It has everything, from Betty's acceptance letter to the college to class photos, snapshots of her and her friends at "Wallace Estates," the house they roomed in in the village, dance cards, articles she wrote for the Stylus, news items about war effort work in a local canning factory and much much more. Betty was president of her class and clearly a lively, active person.

Betty married after the war and taught for a number of years in the Webster schools. As Lyndsey's research goes forward she will be visiting the house in the village where Betty roomed, meeting with a member or two of the Class of '46 who are still with us, and we hope to get the scrapbook digitized so everyone can enjoy it from the Digital Commons. Lyndsey also hopes to do a Scholars Day presentation on this project in the spring.

A "brash challenge"
Something old, something new...

197-71 catalog coverJoyce Ogden, who was a librarian here from 1959-1996, sent the archivist an article recently that she'd run across. In light of the many challenges in higher education today, it is interesting to read about how an earlier generation of college educators, including here at Brockport, which is mentioned in the attached Summer 1971 Saturday Evening Post article, rose to the occasion in their day. Also in the attachment is part of the catalog description of the innovative Brockport program mentioned in Hayakawa's article.

Delta College Instructor Featured in Genesee Reading Series

Matt Kotula, Delta College's Professional Development and Writing instructor, provides a glimpse into his creative side. Matt Kotula—instructor at Delta College—read from his novel at Writers & Books (740 University Ave, Rochester) on Tuesday, November 8, along with Nathan Pritts—Associate Professor of Film at Ashford University—as part of the 2016 Genesee Reading Series.

Now in its 34th year, the Genesee Reading Series presents writers from the greater Genesee Valley region, reading in the Writers & Books performance space. Matt earned his MFA in Creative Writing from Rutgers University.

The College at Brockport’s Department of Dance will present DANCE/Strasser featuring choreography by undergraduate and graduate students in the College’s nationally renowned dance program.

Performances take place Thursday, Dec. 1, through Saturday, Dec. 3, 2016, at 7:30 pm in the Rose L. Strasser Studio in Hartwell Hall, Kenyon Street, on the Brockport campus. Tickets are $17/General, $12/Senior Citizens, Brockport Alumni, Faculty and Staff, and $9/Students. Featuring new dance works by five undergraduate dance majors and four graduate students, concertgoers can look forward to a diverse and energetic dance experience ranging from the delicate and emotional to the quirky.

Highlights in this concert include Chiquita Limer’s MFA thesis “I-ce Shadow” (“I see shadow”), a play in the relationship between figure skating, modern dance, music, and video projection, aiming to investigate the figure skater’s movement aesthetic transposed and integrated upon the bodies of modern dancers.

Also on the program is the rhythmically exciting “A Clock Chaos,” choreographed by graduate student Jiali Wang, showcasing the physical embodiment of the musical score, “In C,” composed and performed by Terry Riley. Additionally, the audience will experience an intriguing duet choreographed by undergraduate Emilia Bunich, titled “Link, Sink, Sync” and a dynamic and inspiring performance of Will Dillard-Jackson’s “Mourner’s Gathering,” danced by 10 undergraduate students.
