Resolution #14, 1976-77

CROSS-LISTED COURSES

A cross-listed course is a course that is offered under more than one department and course number designation. (A course that is taught in one department and allowable in meeting major regulations in another department is not a cross-listed course for purposes of this policy.)

Cross-listing is a joint decision of the departments concerned. Each department must approve the description of the course bearing their department and course number in accordance with college regulations, and they must agree to the equivalence of their course with the cross-listed course in each of the other departments. If a department decides to terminate a cross-listing agreement, the other concerned department is to be notified of this decision.

A student may not take a course for credit if the student has already passed a cross-listed equivalent.

A student who has taken two courses which are subsequently cross-listed will retain credit for both courses.

A student who has received a grade of "D" or "E" in a course and wishes to repeat the course may do so under any of the cross-listed equivalents.

Each department is responsible to publicize clearly which of its courses are cross-listed and what the regulations for its majors are. The phrase "cross-listed with ..." should appear in each catalog description, cross-listed courses should be listed as such in the schedule used for registration, and the instructor should announce the cross-listing at the first meeting of the semester. The student is responsible for mistakes in taking both a course and its cross-listed equivalent if the department has announced its regulations in the proper manner. ]

NOTE: Only the last two paragraphs represent any change in current policy. The remainder of the proposal merely formalizes current practice.
