ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS FOR FALL 1982

The time has come to reestablish the image of the College as an institution with selective admissions, excellent educational programs, and efficient academic services. The College should develop its own unique identity so that the students feel pride in being admitted to, and remaining at, Brockport. The faculty should also be able to feel proud of working in such a challenging environment.

The 1980 Master Plan of SUNY "calls for universal access for all who can benefit from its services." If one assumes that the College at Brockport has a commitment to fulfill this goal, different categories of admission may be used. Lower parameter students can be admitted, but their number has to be restricted in accordance with the availability of support programs. If the College wishes to admit additional lower parameter students, then it must consider its moral obligation to expand the present facilities of communication and learning skills programs, and make the supplemental programs mandatory for such students until they have demonstrated the acquisition of the prerequisite basic skills.

Brockport announced a program of guaranteed admission in September 1973 to all area (residents of Monroe, Orleans, and Genesee counties) freshmen applicants. Applications should be received by the Admissions Processing Center on or before 15 January, and the applicants should meet the requirements for General or Considered Admission.

The number of students admitted under considered and special admissions who need to be placed under Track 'A' of Cognitive Skills should be limited to the availability of adequate academic and non-academic resources. The Committee should be consulted in fixing quotas under each category.
