NOTES:

Rationale for requested revision of the REL Recreation Management Concentration

During the spring 2009 semester the Recreation & Leisure Studies Department submitted a proposal to the Senate that significantly enhanced the curriculum to meet the needs of students and employers. This proposal was passed by the Senate. As we began implementation, we discovered an error in the proposal that was passed.

As part of the proposal of spring 2009, a new concentration was developed, Tourism Management inadvertently both concentrations had the same required courses. This was not the intent of the Department. We are requesting in this proposal to revise the Recreation Management Concentration so that it properly reflects the intent of the Department.

No new courses are being developed as a result of this proposal. No additional resources are being requested.

Description of the revision

Under the current curriculum students electing the Recreation Management Concentration are required to take the following three courses:

- REL 395 Sustainable Development & Management in Recreation & Tourism
- REL 416 Management of Non-Profit Leisure Service Organizations
- REL 430 Special Event Planning

Two of these courses REL 395 and REL 430 are also required of students enrolled in the Tourism Management Concentration. This was not the intent of the department.

The revised Recreation Management Concentration, students would be required to take the following three courses:

- REL 313 Economic and Community Development in Recreation
- REL 411 The Legal Environment of Recreation
- REL 416 Management of Non-Profit Leisure Service Organizations

The current two required courses REL 395 and REL 430 would be made electives in the Recreation Management Concentration.

Re: REL Undergraduate Curriculum Revision

I am pleased to endorse the revision of the undergraduate curriculum proposed by the Department of Recreation & Leisure Studies.

The department's proposal to divide the Recreation Management concentration into two concentrations: (1) Tourism Management and (2) Recreation Management was approved. However, in implementing the curriculum it was discovered that a clerical error was made on the side-by-side comparison form that was submitted. Both concentrations had the same required courses listed, which was not the intent of the proposal.

I look forward to the full support of the College Senate for this proposed program modification.

Thank you.

Subj.: Curricular Change
Department of Recreation and Leisure Studies

Please accept this brief memo in support of the proposed changes to the REL Recreation Management concentration. As I understand it, the change is requested to correct a clerical error associated with a proposal submitted to, and approved by, Senate last year. In that proposal, courses associated with both the Recreation Management and the Tourism Management concentrations were inadvertently and mistakenly listed as identical. This proposal seeks to rectify that error by listing the correct courses meant to be associated with the Recreation Management concentration. No new courses are proposed (existing courses are re-arranged) and no new resources are necessary to deliver the corrected curriculum. Thank you for the consideration.
