Information Infrastructure
For
New York
I2NY Library as Publisher

Many cool NY projects – but many “silo-ed”
MISSION: “To ensure that all New Yorkers have seamless, unfettered, and affordable access to information, through the creation of a New York statewide information infrastructure which encourages collaboration and joint enterprises among the libraries and archives.”

_I love this project. It has real community feel and it covers the whole spectrum: encourage people to think they have stories, help them write better ones, publish a book, do a community reading._

_..the project has heart and seems to me to capture the real meaning of library as publisher._
Library as Publisher of Graduate Student Data Project

Sr. Assistant Librarian, Moon Library, SUNY College of Environmental Science & Forestry

Judges said:

Data publishing is one of the most promising and challenging area for library initiatives. There is a clear and demonstrated need for this type of service and the F. Franklin Moon Library seems well-positioned to successfully implement a program…The checklist and procedures developed in this project could be used in other settings and could provide pathways for effectively collaborating with faculty and students in this critical area.
